

This is a detailed cadastral map of a residential neighborhood. The map shows numerous small rectangular plots, each containing a red house icon and numerical identifiers. Several large areas are outlined in thick yellow lines, indicating specific zones or developments. These include a large rectangular block in the upper left, a curved section in the lower right, and several smaller clusters throughout the central and lower portions of the map. The surrounding areas are mostly white, representing undeveloped land or other types of terrain. There are some pink labels scattered across the map, such as "L. Hložek mládež", "ke dohled", "Borohova", "Větrná", "Boží", "Přírodní", "L. vodováha", "L. voda", and "kód dle země". A red line runs along the top edge of the map, possibly indicating a boundary or a road. The overall layout suggests a planned urban environment with designated development areas.
